(Copyright © 2025 MetroDesk Media, LLC) — A Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office Deputy was apparently shot multiple times around 5:10 p.m. in Boynton Beach. Sources tell BocaNewsNow.com that the Deputy was found in his vehicle. It is unclear if the deputy was on duty or off duty at the time of the incident.

The shooting, in the 9300 block of Water Course Way in Boynton Beach, is apparently near the home of a law enforcement officer. A nearby address is listed as "confidential" in public records, citing a Florida statute that protects the residential addresses of law enforcement and adjacent professionals. The scene is just east of Jog Road and south of Gateway Boulevard.

BocaNewsNow.com has learned that at least one person was pronounced dead at the scene, but it's unclear whether the deceased is a deputy, a suspect, or related in another way to the situation.

We are awaiting an update from PBSO and caution that all facts are subject to change. Per BocaNewsNow.com policy, we will not release the name of any deputy or law enforcement member involved until provided officially by the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office.
